Immunization Quality Improvement for Providers Service

There is strong evidence that assessment and feedback, along with other elements such as incentives and exchange, are effective in increasing vaccination rates. The CDC established Immunization Quality Improvement for Providers (IQIP) — the national Vaccines for Children (VFC) provider-level quality improvement program — to assist and support healthcare personnel by identifying low immunization rates and opportunities for improving immunization delivery practices. IQIP replaced the CDC's AFIX program on July 1, 2019.

The focus of the program is to support the implementation of immunization quality improvement strategies in provider offices to increase on-time vaccination of children and adolescents. To help meet this goal, the Gainwell IQIP Service supports workflows that assess healthcare providers' vaccination coverage levels and immunization practices. This module includes IQIP assessments and has been developed to allow an Immunization Information System (IIS) to perform provider-level assessments.

Gainwell provides the tools for you to undertake an assessment of performance that enables providers to determine how well they are doing through systematic, routine examination of client records, achieve higher immunization rates, and improve their immunization practices.

Our approach helps you tailor your IQIP quality improvement strategies to meet your jurisdictional program's needs and improve immunization workflow to support on-time vaccination within child and adolescent populations in your community.

The major components of the IQIP module are:

- Childhood Assessment Reports
- Adolescent Assessment Reports
- Provider Report Card Report
- Invalid Doses Report

Benefits

- Customize quality improvement strategies that best meet needs and workflow
- Improve on-time vaccination in your community
- Leverage your IIS data to better assess on-time vaccination coverage and individual patient vaccination needs
- Help focus staff time on follow-up — not catch-up — activities
